

*Our Vision of San Luis Obispo's
Economic Future*

An aerial photograph of the San Luis Obispo valley. The foreground shows a lush green hillside with dense trees. In the middle ground, a town is nestled in a valley, partially obscured by a thick layer of white fog or low clouds. The background features rolling green hills and a large body of water, likely San Luis Obispo Bay, under a clear blue sky. The overall scene is bright and scenic, capturing the natural beauty of the region.

"Vision: A clear and distinct picture of an achievable future."
